PREFACE.

The aim of the present work, as the title implies, is to suggest program Gift and Occupation Work for a year in kindergarten. The home with its interests, and simple nature work, form the basis of the outline, and as far as possible home plays and home play methods have been carried over as true kindergarten links between the home and the school.

The outline has been used in practical experience in two public kindergartens for a number of years, and the authors have suggested no plan of work which may not be carried out with classes of twenty children or more.

Large materials, including the building gifts, enlarged tablets, sticks, and rings, have been used, also larger blocks for group work building on the floor and in a sand box. Sea shells and large seeds have been used with great success for outlining and designing. In addition to kindergarten play material, the use of toys is urged, also the utilizing of home materials, such as empty boxes, spools, pictorial catalogues, etc., for constructive work.

The colored posters are a suggestion for a new and very effective form of brush work, giving practice in the putting on of washes.

In presenting this outline, it is hoped that it may be used only as suggestive. In some cases the occupation for the day would cover a number of days' work, and the kindergartner must accept the book as she is able to interpret it in her own kindergarten.

397795

Much inspiration for the outline has been gained from Dr. Dewey's University Primary School plans. We are also indebted to Miss Louise Green of the William Street Kindergarten, Springfield, for original work along the line of illustration.

Much of the constructive work in paper and bristol board has been found in Knapp's Raffia and Reed Weaving, to which frequent reference is made.

II. OUTLINE OF TABLE WORK.

Topic for First Week—What the days bring us.

OLDER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Sixth Gift.—Use one third of the Gift to construct laundry furnishings, stationary tubs, benches, and clothes posts.

Occupation: Drawing. A clothesline with clothes drying.

Tuesday.

Gift: Fifth Gift.—Use one third of the Gift to build a kitchen stove, and set the quarter cubes on the top for flatirons.

Occupation: Raffia. Tie together a bunch of long pieces of raffia in the center, braiding strands for arms and tying on scarlet raffia for sash to make a doll.

Wednesday.

Gift: Emphasize mother's sewing day by building with large empty spools.

Occupation: Make a doll from cotton batting. Fold together a number of sheets of ordinary white wadding. Tie worsted to form the neck, and oversew the edge of the doll with bright worsted. Beads may be used for eyes.

Thursday.

Gift: Square and triangular tablets. Make design for rug or floor.

Occupation: Raffia. Make a raffia broom for a doll's house. Cut raffia in short lengths and tie to the end of a colored splint.

Friday.

Gift: Fourth Gift.—Build a cooking table and chest of drawers for cooking utensils.

Occupation: Clay. Model a cooking spoon.

YOUNGER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Fourth Gift.—Build stationary tubs and wash bench.

Occupation: Represent a clothes yard in the sand box. Set up clothes posts, connect with twine, and cut clothes from white paper to hang on the lines.

Tuesday.

Gift: Third Gift.—Build ironing table and stove.

Occupation: Clay. Model a flatiron.

Wednesday.

Gift: Make potato dolls. Cut out holes for eyes, nose and mouth. Meat skewers are good for arms and legs, and the completed doll may be dressed in tissue paper.

Occupation: Make a doll's carriage from a spool box. Cut the cover in half, gluing one half to end of box for the head of the carriage. Cardboard discs, which may be procured in large quantities from a dairy or milk dealer, are very satisfactory for wheels, and may be glued in place or fastened on to turn with collar buttons. (See illustration.)

Thursday.

Gift: Tablets. Use square tablets to make a simple design for a hard wood floor.

Occupation: Parquetry. Reproduce the design made in first period.

Friday.

Gift: Large sticks. Outline cooking table and chair.

Occupation: Cut out paper doll and paint its dress.

Topic for Second Week—The Clock.

OLDER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Fifth Gift.—Build a clock tower.

Occupation: Cutting. Cut freehand a tall clock tower and use a yellow parquetry circle for the clock face.

Tuesday.

Gift: Fourth Gift.—Build a mantelpiece for a clock.

Occupation: Make a clock to take home. Fold two squares of heavy paper into sixteen square foundation. Cut, fold, and paste as for oblong box. Slip one box within the other and glue together. Paste on a clock face and cut a circle directly underneath for a door. Suspend a Hailmann bead or a bit of chalk by thread inside for a pendulum, just showing through the door. When set in motion, the pendulum will swing for some time. (See illustration.)

Wednesday.

Gift: Rings. Use different sizes for watches. Sticks may represent the hands.

Occupation: Make a toy watch. Paint a yellow rim to a white cardboard circle. Use a paper fastener, bent, for the hands. Suspend with yellow worsted for chain.

Thursday.

Gift: Third and Fourth Gift in combination. Build a railroad station and clock tower.

Occupation: Blackboard drawing. Clock tower.

Friday.

Gift: Tablets, square and circular. Outline a parlor clock.

Occupation: Cut out pictures of clocks and watches from an advertising catalogue.

YOUNGER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Third Gift and divided cubes. Build a clock tower.

Occupation: Make a toy watch. Mount a clock face on circular piece of cardboard. Sew yellow worsted rim to the circle and use raffia for the watch chain.

Tuesday.

Gift: Tablets, square and circular. Outline mantelpiece and parlor clock.

Occupation: String small cylinder beads, using one large sphere at the end to represent a pendulum.

Wednesday.

Gift: First Gift.—Pendulum plays.

Occupation: Make a clock similar to the one made by the older class, using one oblong box foundation.

Thursday.

Gift: Rings. Sort three sizes of rings and lay in rows to represent the watches in a jeweler's window.

Occupation: Blackboard drawing of large circles.

Friday.

Gift: Large sticks. Outline engine house tower and clock.

Occupation: Clay. Model a circular tile, and draw in the hands with a toothpick to represent a clock face.

Topic for Third Week—What the Cold Brings.

OLDER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Sticks. Outline snow crystals.

Occupation: Drawing snow crystals on blackboard.

Tuesday.

Gift: Tablets, square and half square. Snow shovel and sled.

Occupation: Saw wood for snow shovel or doll's sled.

Wednesday.

Gift: Sand box. Illustrate "Snow-Bound." Use blocks for farm buildings, cotton batting with frost powder for snowdrifts.

Occupation: Finish snow shovel, and paint.

Gift: Rings and slats. Outline snow man.

Occupation: Clay. Model snow man.

Friday.

Gift: Fifth Gift.—Sequence, house, church, and school.

Occupation: Cut snow crystal from white paper. Mount on black.

YOUNGER CLASS.Monday.

Gift: Sticks and rings. Outline a sled.

Occupation: Fold and cut a sled from sixteen-square foundation.

Tuesday.

Gift: Square tablets. Lay sidewalk.

Occupation: Drawing. Snow shovel in colored crayon.

Wednesday.

Gift: Sand box. Snow picture. Cover toy houses and twig trees with cotton batting for snow. Use a sheet of ground glass for an ice pond, and put in the sleds which were made on Monday.

Occupation: Painting. Rubber boot in ink.

Thursday.

Gift: Sticks and rings. Outline a snow man.

Occupation: Clay. Model a snow man.

Friday.

Gift: Third Gift.—Build in sequence a house, barn, sidewalk and wall.

Occupation: Blackboard drawing. Snow crystals.

Topic for Fourth Week—A Child of the Cold.

OLDER CLASS.

Monday.

Gift: Rings. Use large and small half rings to outline an Esquimo hut.

Occupation: Clay. Model an Esquimo hut.

Tuesday.

Gift: Sand box. Picture of the cold country. Cover the sand with white sheet wadding for snow. A circular wire foundation will represent a hut. Esquimo dolls may be procured from any large toy store and these, with toy reindeer, a toy bear, and cardboard sleds complete the picture.

Occupation: Painting. The outline of an Esquimo child on gray paper may be filled in with white ink.

Wednesday.

Gift: Sticks and half rings. Outline Esquimo sled.

Occupation: Cut and fold sled.

Thursday.

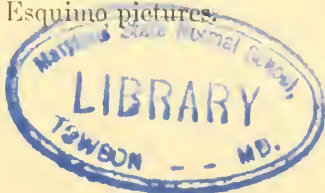

Gift: Square and triangular tablets. Ship.

Occupation: Cut out Arctic animals, dog, bear, seal, etc.

Friday.
